Rev. Thomas B. Brown, Jr., is the pastor of Union Bethel A.M.E. Church, of the Eighth Episcopal District of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. A man of God, he is "Seen and Heard" stirring up the Holy Spirit within the consecrated walls of the Church's setting.

The son of the late Rev. Thomas B. Brown, Sr. and Mrs. Lou Emma Brown Allen, was born in Greenwood, Mississippi, with his home church being the Greater Turner Chapel A.M.E. Church.

He received his early education in the Greenwood Public School system. He is a graduate of Campbell College, Jackson, MS and Tougaloo College, Tougaloo, MS. He received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Lampton School of Religion and did further study at ITC, Atlanta, and New Orleans Baptist Theologically Seminary.

His Spiritual experience and wisdom is what he learned early in his ministry has kept close to his heart. He remembers these words from the Gospel according to St. John 8:31, "IF YE CONTINUE IN MY WORD, THEN ARE YE MY DISCIPLES". These words have never departed from Pastor Brown and remain precious in his heart today.

Rev. Brown is one of the most powerful and dynamic preachers in the Eighth Episcopal District. He also holds the honor and distinction of the humble position of being the chairperson of The Board of Examiners of the Louisiana Annual Conference. Rev. Brown has the ability to personify not only his own pulpit but also the pulpits of wherever and whenever he is called upon to expound on God's word.

Rev. Brown is God's messenger to the hungry, the homeless, the sick, the naked, and the afflicted. He has dealt with many trials and tribulations and his FAITH has helped him to withstand the test of time. Faithful is he who endures to the end.
